

Double Moon

Constructions and Conversations

Constructions by Margo Klass

Conversations by Frank Soos

Double Moon

from Boreal Books

an imprint of Red Hen Press

Constructions by Margo Klass

Texts by Frank Soos

ISBN: 978-1-59709-141-1

Binding: Tradepaper

Size: 7.5 x 8.5; Pages: 80

Pub Date: February 15, 2009

Price: US $19.95

At the heart of Double Moon is a collaboration involving the complex interplay between two spirited minds. Each of Margo Klass's box constructions is an invitation to enter among objects in space and make of them what one might. Frank Soos has taken up that invitation. Margo's constructions and Frank's responses talk to each other, sometimes agreeably, sometimes ironically, sometimes earnestly, and sometimes flippantly. This collection stands as a representation of five years of their aesthetic sparring. Whoever picks up this book is invited to play along.

Shadow of egg. Idiom of stone. Music of branch. Band of sight. Texture of thought. The found objects find surprising new ways to tug at the eye and lure you in while the words, sometimes substantiation, sometimes pulling against the grain, have a momentum all their own. The visual and verbal pairings of Double Moon open windows on relationship, combine and recombine to expose the inscrutable world of imagination.

—Judith Kitchen, author of Distance and Direction

Open Double Moon and enter a temple of alcoves and altars to quiet restoration. Ordinary objects tell extraordinary stories. The world's orphaned items, fragments and forgotten stories are arranged in dignified contemplation. Long after you close this book a part of you will remain, kneeling at the altar of memory.

—Asia Freeman, artist and Director of Bunnell Street Gallery, Homer, Alaska

This is a stunning book and I want to live in it. Double Moon — one of the more magical collaborations ever encountered, amazing objects accompanied by luminous words — they meet, circle one another, interact and shimmer. Double Moon is a flight of many fancies, a truly transporting alliance by Klass & Soos — meditative and whimsical, solid and quirky, calm and thoughtfully challenging, striking and deeply comforting — all at once. The lucky viewer/reader wishes simply to be absorbed.

—Naomi Shihab Nye, author of Honey Bee: Poems & Short Prose

borealbooks

borealbooks is an imprint of Red Hen Press | www.redhenpress.org

Peggy Shumaker, Founding Editor • 100 Cushman Street Suite 210 • Fairbanks AK 99701-4674

borealbooks3@gmail.com | www.borealbooks.org

Book Description

At the heart of Double Moon is a collaboration involving the complex interplay between two spirited minds. Each of Margo Klass's box constructions is an invitation to enter among objects in space and make of them what one might. Frank Soos has taken up that invitation. Margo's constructions and Frank's responses talk to each other, sometimes agreeably, sometimes ironically, sometimes earnestly, and sometimes flippantly. This collection stands as a representation of five years of their aesthetic sparring. Whoever picks up this book is invited to play along.

Praise for Double Moon

Shadow of egg. Idiom of stone. Music of branch. Band of sight. Texture of thought. The found objects find surprising new ways to tug at the eye and lure you in while the words, sometimes substantiation, sometimes pulling against the grain, have a momentum all their own. The visual and verbal pairings of Double Moon open windows on relationship, combine and recombine to expose the inscrutable world of imagination.

—Judith Kitchen, author of Distance and Direction

Open Double Moon and enter a temple of alcoves and altars to quiet restoration. Ordinary objects tell extraordinary stories. The world's orphaned items, fragments and forgotten stories are arranged in dignified contemplation. Long after you close this book a part of you will remain, kneeling at the altar of memory.

—Asia Freeman, artist and Director of Bunnell Street Gallery, Homer, Alaska

This is a stunning book and I want to live in it. Double Moon — one of the more magical collaborations ever encountered, amazing objects companioned by luminous words — they meet, circle one another, interact and shimmer. Double Moon is a flight of many fancies, a truly transporting alliance by Klass & Soos — meditative and whimsical, solid and quirky, calm and thoughtfully challenging, striking and deeply comforting — all at once. The lucky viewer/reader wishes simply to be absorbed.

—Naomi Shihab Nye, author of Honey Bee: Poems & Short Prose

Author Biographies

Margo Klass is influenced by medieval altarpieces, the work of twentieth century random constructionist Kurt Schwitters, and Japanese architect Tadeo Ando. Her work has been widely collected and exhibited by galleries and museums from Maine to Alaska. She is a recipient of an artist grant from the Rasmuson Foundation. Learn more about her work at www.margoklass.com

Frank Soos has published two works of fiction: Early Yet, and Unified Field Theory, the 1997 winner of the Flannery O'Connor Award for Short Fiction, and one book of essays, Bamboo Fly Rod Suite. The recipient of grants from the National Endowment for the Arts and the Alaska State Council on the arts, he is professor emeritus of English at the University of Alaska, Fairbanks.

Margo Klass and Frank Soos began their collaboration in 2002. They make their home in Fairbanks, Alaska.

Press for Double Moon

Naomi Shihab Nye reviews *Double Moon

Nye shares her fantasy-like wonder at the duality of Double Moon-filled with “..amazing objects companioned by luminous words..”

Click HERE to read the full review.

Capital City Weekly features *Double Moon

Capital City Weekly editor Katie Spielberger describes Double Moon as “...a book [not] to be borrowed and passed around. It’s one to keep, to pull off the shelf in quiet moments.”

Read the full article HERE.

Collaboration forges new experience with visual, literary art

Erica Goff of Daily News-Miner reviews Double Moon, conversing with Klass and Soos on their respective contributions and collaboration.

Read the full review by clicking HERE.

Events

For a complete listing of appearances and events, visit Margo Klass's web site at: www.margoklass.com.

Review Copies, Author Interviews & Excerpts

To request a review copy, schedule an author interview, or obtain more information regarding publishing an excerpt contact Steph Opitz, redhenpress8@verizon.net.

Examination Copies

Please refer requests for examination copies to the Chicago Distribution Center. They can be contacted at 800-621-2736.

Author Photo

Download Author Photo

Cover Image

Download Cover Photo

Interview/Book Club Study Guide

Double Moon: Constructions & Conversations

By Margo Klass and Frank Soos

Following are questions for consideration in interviews or classroom/book club discussions. For further information Margo can be contacted at margoklass@acsalaska.net and Frank can be contacted at fffms@uaf.edu.

1. What frame of mind should a person have when opening this book?
2. How does this collaboration work? Who makes the first gesture, and how do you arrive at a satisfactory balance between words and image?
3. For Margo: How do you select and arrange the objects that will form your compositions?
4. For Frank: Since your entries are necessarily brief, what weight do you assign the words you choose?
5. For Margo: Since your work is made in three dimensions, are there disadvantages to having it reduced to two on a printed page?
6. For Frank: Since your words are meant to appear as a panel on a gallery wall, what do you think you gain or lose by having them available in book form?
7. For Margo: H.C. Westermann and Joseph Cornell are obvious influences in your work. How does your work differ from their aesthetic explorations?
8. For Frank: Likewise, you cite the influence of Charles Simic and Stephen Dunn. How has your work advanced their aesthetic explorations?
9. What are the limits of the forms you have chosen and the limits built into a collaborative effort?
10. This book is the result of a fruitful four-year collaboration. What's next?

PRE-ORDER NOW:

Double Moon

CONSTRUCTIONS AND CONVERSATIONS

Margo Klass and Frank Soos

Double Moon

from Boreal Books

an imprint of Red Hen Press

Constructions by Margo Klass

Texts by Frank Soos

ISBN: 978-1-59709-141-1

Binding: Tradepaper

Size: 7.5 x 8.5; Pages: 80

Pub Date: February 15, 2009

Price: US $19.95

At the heart of Double Moon is a collaboration involving the complex interplay between two spirited minds. Each of Margo Klass's box constructions is an invitation to enter among objects in space and make of them what one might. Frank Soos has taken up that invitation. Margo's constructions and Frank's responses talk to each other, sometimes agreeably, sometimes ironically, sometimes earnestly, and sometimes flippantly. This collection stands as a representation of five years of their aesthetic sparring. Whoever picks up this book is invited to play along.

Shadow of egg. Idiom of stone. Music of branch. Band of sight. Texture of thought. The found objects find surprising new ways to tug at the eye and lure you in while the words, sometimes substantiation, sometimes pulling against the grain, have a momentum all their own. The visual and verbal pairings of Double Moon open windows on relationship, combine and recombine to expose the inscrutable world of imagination.

—Judith Kitchen, author of Distance and Direction

Open Double Moon and enter a temple of alcoves and altars to quiet restoration. Ordinary objects tell extraordinary stories. The world's orphaned items, fragments and forgotten stories are arranged in dignified contemplation. Long after you close this book a part of you will remain, kneeling at the altar of memory.

—Asia Freeman, artist and Director of Bunnell Street Gallery, Homer, Alaska

This is a stunning book and I want to live in it. Double Moon — one of the more magical collaborations ever encountered, amazing objects accompanied by luminous words — they meet, circle one another, interact and shimmer. Double Moon is a flight of many fancies, a truly transporting alliance by Klass & Soos — meditative and whimsical, solid and quirky, calm and thoughtfully challenging, striking and deeply comforting — all at once. The lucky viewer/reader wishes simply to be absorbed.

—Naomi Shihab Nye, author of Honey Bee: Poems & Short Prose

Red Hen Press • P.O. Box 3537 • Granada Hills, CA 91394 • www.redhen.org

DCA DEPARTMENT OF CULTURAL AFFAIRS City of Los Angeles

Red Hen Press is a small nonprofit literary press founded in 1994.

Please support small independent presses who keep cutting edge literature alive.

Order Form

Mail order to:

Red Hen Press
P.O. Box 3537
Granada Hills, CA 91394

Donations will support the publication of Red Hen titles.

Thank you!

Please send ___ copies of Double Moon by Margo Klass and Frank Soos to:

Name: _____

Address: _____

City: _____ State _____ Zip _____

E-Mail: _____

Per copy: $19.95

Subtotal: _____

Free shipping if order received before February 15, 2009!

S&H 1st copy  $3.00

Add $1.00 for each add'l copy: _____

Donation : $ _____

TOTAL: $ _____

News from

Red Hen Press

P.O. BOX 3537 • GRANADA HILLS, CA 91394 • (818) 831-0649 • fax: (818) 831-6659

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE FEBRUARY 15, 2009

NEW TITLE FROM BOREAL BOOKS

Double Moon Constructions & Conversations

by

Margo Klass and Frank Soos

At the heart of Double Moon is a collaboration involving the complex interplay between two spirited minds. Each of Margo Klass's box constructions is an invitation to enter among objects in space and make of them what one might. Frank Soos has taken up that invitation. Margo's constructions and Frank's responses talk to each other, sometimes agreeably, sometimes ironically, sometimes earnestly, and sometimes flippantly. This collection stands as a representation of five years of their aesthetic sparring. Whoever picks up this book is invited to play along.

---

Double Moon: Constructions & Conversations

Constructions by Margo Klass

Texts by Frank Soos

Afterword by Kesler Woodward

ISBN: 978-1-59709-141-1

Binding: Tradepaper

Size: 7.5 x 8.5; Pages: 80

Pub Date: February 15, 2009

Price: US $19.95

---

Praise for Double Moon:

This is a stunning book and I want to live in it. Double Moon — one of the more magical collaborations ever encountered, amazing objects companioned by luminous words — they meet, circle one another, interact and shimmer. Double Moon is a flight of many fancies, a truly transporting alliance by Klass & Soos — meditative and whimsical, solid and quirky, calm and thoughtfully challenging, striking and deeply comforting — all at once. The lucky viewer/reader wishes simply to be absorbed.

—Naomi Shihab Nye, author of Honey Bee: Poems & Short Prose

borealbooks

borealbooks is an imprint of Red Hen Press | www.redhenpress.org

Peggy Shumaker, Founding Editor • 100 Cushman Street Suite 210 • Fairbanks AK 99701-4674

borealbooks3@gmail.com | www.borealbooks.com